Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Dr. Hollis Johnson delivered a good talk last night at the Woman's Club House.

A Psychiatrist with years of experience, Dr. Johnson's talk was interesting and evoked some good questions at the conclusion of the program.

He says the things we are most concerned with are money, children, work and health and our concern for these things and how they work out, brings happiness, unhappiness, worry, or lack of it, and mental illness.

These things represent life to us and give us the motivation we have to do things.

Of course when you get into psychiatry and psychology, you get confused right away.

The parent is so often blamed for what the children do. If you push the child into more effort, along scholastic lines, and he blows up, you are at fault.

If you do not push the child along scholastic lines, then the school brands the parent as being uncooperative and let you know right away that they can easily see why little Johnny is not doing well.

We believe most parents want to do the right thing for their children. The way in which they go about it may be wrong even though their intentions are good.

Since the parent-child relationship is so important and since communication between parent and child is so important and should be kept as open as possible maybe some kind of course in college should be set up along these lines. Or possibly some psychology courses in college should be required.

We do know that one of the most pressing problems today is how to properly motivate young people.

Just what will motivate a young person to do his best.

In other words, what reason can a young person have for properly preparing himself for his life's work, that makes sense to him.

You would think that this fact alone would be motivation but it is not. You might think that the fact that he would make more money with an education would do the trick, but it will not.

Motivating factors such as pride in one's self, excellence for the sake of excellence, working just to stay in the top one-fourth of the class, etc. will not do the trick for many.

Ben Humphreys pointed out to us that thirty or forty years ago the good guys and the bad guys in a movie were easily identified. The bad guys were black, wore a smirch, had habits not associated with the normal good guy.

Today in the movies and TV shows you have to search to find the good guy and the bad guy. They are almost alike. Habits which are exhibited by both are similar. Young people have difficulty in some cases in determining what is good and what is bad.

Things can get terribly involved.

In the final analysis, each individual has the greatest influence on himself.

Each person has to reach certain conclusions on how happy he intends to be or what kind of outlook he is going to have. It takes practice and purpose to keep oneself on an even keel.

A person almost has to tell himself, "I am going to be as happy as I can be in spite of the vicissitudes of life," then work on it.

Blood Bank Program Is Success Here

The Blood Bank program in Calloway was a big success yesterday with the quota of 167 pints of blood being met. An actual 143 pints were contributed by blood donors yesterday and enough was given over the quota at the previous visit of the Bloodmobile to make up the current quota.

Official's reported that the county is still covered under the program and any citizen of the county needing blood may receive it free of charge with only the transfusion expense being charged.

Visiting Bloodmobile officials complimented the county on its turnout, and reported a high number of "first timers" which indicates a continued interest in the program.

Local officials urged that "old" donors continue to make their visits to the Bloodmobile on its announced visits to Murray. With old donors continuing to give blood, and new donors arriving on the scene, the program will be sure of continued success.

A smaller number of turnouts were reported at the visit yesterday. Some people arrive to contribute blood but are turned down for some reason such as low iron content.

Miss Elizabeth Thompson, secretary of the local Red Cross Chapter, urged that when anyone receives blood at an out of town hospital, that it be reported to the local chapter so that the blood they received may be replaced from the Calloway County Blood Bank.

There is no charge for the blood, even though it may be replaced in a hospital away from Murray, as long as the county continues to meet its Blood Bank quota.

Officials extended their appreciation for those who gave blood yesterday and for the many volunteers who gave of their time. The basement of the First Methodist Church Education Building was used by the Bloodmobile.

Open House At Rushing Creek To Be Held

The Tennessee Valley Authority will hold an open house at the newly completed Rushing Creek Camping and Day-Use area in the Land Between the Lakes Saturday and Sunday, May 8 and 9. It was announced today.

The open house is being held to give people interested in using the campground and day-use area an opportunity to look over the camping, picnic facilities and beaches prior to the official opening on May 15.

The new campground and day-use area is located in the Rushing Creek embayment overlooking Kentucky Lake, near the Tennessee-Kentucky state line south of U.S. Highway 68.

Visitors to the area during the open house will be admitted free. Beginning May 15 visitors will be charged for the use of the facilities.

Members of the TVA staff will be on hand at the campground to welcome visitors into the area between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Those coming into the area during the open house will be allowed to use the picnic facilities but will not be allowed to camp in the area, TVA said.

May 15 will begin the second season of use for the Rushing Creek campground. Part of the area was opened to the public last summer, and more than 12,000 campers and sightseers from 20 states visited and used the area even though construction was still taking place.

Much larger use is expected this summer. Some 220 family camping sites will be ready for use by May 15. Only 80 sites were ready for public use last summer. The completed facilities will accommodate 750 to 1,000 campers. Facilities in the area include boat launching ramps, beaches, marked swimming areas, picnic tables, toilet and shower buildings, playgrounds and waterfront play shelters.

The Rushing Creek Camping and Day-Use area is the first of many such facilities to be developed in the 40-mile-long Land Between the Lakes. Several additional family campgrounds are to be developed and a camping area for organized groups such as Scouts is scheduled for early development around the Duncan Creek embayment on Kentucky Lake.

Man's Reaction To Stress Is Factor In Mental Illness

Dr. Hollis Johnson

Dr. Hollis Johnson, Psychiatrist from Louisville, Kentucky, was the featured speaker last night at 8:00 o'clock at the Murray Woman's Club House. Dr. Johnson was in Murray to give a talk at an open meeting of the Delta Department of the Murray-Calloway County Mental Health Association.

A. W. Simmons, Jr., president of the local association introduced Dr. Johnson to the good crowd which turned out for the occasion. Simmons was introduced by Mrs. Dee Tins.

Proceeding the introductions, Mrs. William Caldwell, chairman of the Delta Department gave a welcome to the audience.

Dr. Johnson told his audience that people work and live under various stresses and that people react in different ways to these stresses. Those whose reactions are outside the "normal" are known as the mentally ill and names are given to the manner in which they react.

He pointed out that great strides have been made in the treatment of these illnesses. The old procedure was to send a person to an institution and he would remain there until he died. If he did return to his old routine, it was to the great amazement of everyone, he continued.

Treatment today returns many many persons to a normal life, he told his audience.

He said that everyone has the possibility of becoming mentally ill. This might be caused by health, background, physical structure, and reaction to stress at any given time.

"We can all adopt a certain amount of stress, but it is when we cannot cope with these stresses that we become mentally ill," Dr. Johnson continued.

This survey showed that man finds happiness in money, children, marriage, and home, he continued. Factors affecting these sources of happiness could cause worry which could lead to an illness. The survey indicated that few people worried over international tensions and that immediate problems such as money and family, offered the greatest concern.

There is a difference between unhappiness and worry, he pointed out. The unhappy person may be apathetic, pessimistic, yet not worry too much. The worrier may be optimistic and believe that things will turn out well, yet be worried over his economic situation.

Young people are generally happy, but may worry a lot, whereas an older person may be unhappy, yet worry little.

Dr. Johnson reviewed causes of concern for women and for men and brought up several points of interest to the audience.

He concluded by telling the large audience that out of many studies and experiences, it has been shown that man needs to belong to a group and not be alone.

A question and answer period followed his talk, in which persons in the audience asked a number of interesting questions which Dr. Johnson answered.

The consensus was that more education in the field of mental health would aid the community and the individual.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson were guests of honor yesterday evening at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Simmons, Jr. and following his talk they were honored at a reception in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles D. Clark.

Truce Signed In Santo Domingo Dead Over 1000

By MARTIN McREYNOLDS

United Press International
SANTO DOMINGO (UP) — The Organization of American States OAS announced today that both sides had signed a "firm truce" in the civil war that cost more than 1,000 dead and brought U.S. armed intervention.

Before the announcement troops of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division opened fire on a 350-foot rebel trawler in the Ozama River touching off a tremendous ammunition explosion that cast a black pall over the city. The trawler apparently brought in rebel arms from abroad.

Several hundred more American troops landed today as the OAS officials met at the loyalist stronghold of San Isidro airport. Junta leaders and rebel provisional "president" Francisco Caamaño Dengo signed the truce.

The agreement called the "Act of Santo Domingo" had four provisions.

—It formalized the cease-fire already shaky in effect.

—It demarcates an enlargement of the security zone carved out by U.S. Marines and paratroopers to include all foreign embassies.

—It provides for evacuation of persons who have taken asylum in various embassies and of refugees caught up in the fighting.

—It provides for distribution of food, medicine and medical equipment to both sides regardless of political beliefs.

The trawler of unknown nationality first opened fire on the paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division, who have carved out an international refuge zone and a supply line through rebel-held territory. The paratroopers returned the fire and the explosion followed.

The ship did not sink but was lying disabled in the river which bisects Santo Domingo. Fate of its crew was not known. Observers believed it was bringing in arms and ammunition from a foreign country for use by the rebels.

Otherwise the military situation was comparatively quiet with only scattered firing heard through the city. The political situation appeared static with diplomats including representatives of the Organization of American States OAS making little progress toward permanent peace.

The rebels have announced the election of Francisco Caamaño Dengo as "provisional president" but so far the Americans have shown little interest in him. Though officially neutral they have been forced to work through "Junta" leader Col. Pedro B. Benoit whose forces hold the airport where American troops and supplies have landed.

Members of the OAS peace mission in Santo Domingo were talking with both groups in an effort to reach a stable cease-fire.

Many of the younger rebels remained militantly opposed to the American forces in Santo Domingo and one small group said Tuesday night the rebels will "slaughter" U.S. forces here unless they surrender to the Communist-backed Insurgents.

Military sources said eight American servicemen had been killed but did not have details of the latest death. Previously three Marines and three paratroopers were reported killed in action and 49 wounded. Another paratrooper was killed by an accidental grenade explosion.

Shoe Skokley Is Getting A Private Tutoring Class

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD

UPI Sports Writer

Rookie center Shoe Skokley is receiving some first class tutoring from a guy whose job he's destined to take over.

The teacher is Joe Adcock.

A burly 23-year-old first baseman with the Los Angeles Angels, Skokley holds great admiration for 37-year-old Adcock.

"What a guy that Joe is," Skokley exclaimed. "I guess you'd say he took me under his wing this spring when I came to camp and has taught me plenty about baseball."

Skokley, who has been alternating with Adcock as a 10-year major league veteran, at first base for the Angels this season, has had a rugged start in the American League since coming over from Philadelphia in the deal for Bo Belinsky.

Big Tuesday night Adcock's advice began to pay off for Skokley, who belted his first home run—a grand slammer—in support of another ex-Phillie, rookie Marcelino Lopez. Skokley's blast, plus the six-hit pitching of Lopez, who notched his third win, enabled the Angels to stop Boston 7-1.

Joe's always giving me tips on pitchers and what pitches to look for," he said.

Skokley had managed only six hits in 40 times at bat prior to Tuesday night, but the Angels realize his home run potential. He led the Pacific Coast League in homers last season at Little Rock with 36 and Skokley feels with Adcock's help, he'll soon be reaching that figure with the Angels.

In other American League games, New York edged Cleveland 5-3. Chicago outlasted Detroit 10-6. Washington stopped Kansas City

4-2, and Minnesota beat Baltimore 7-3.

Pittsburgh whipped Chicago 6-3, the New York Mets shamed Philadelphia 3-1, Milwaukee beat Houston 9-3. Los Angeles defeated Cincinnati 4-6 and San Francisco bombed St. Louis 9-2 in National League action.

Yogi Berra
Is Back,
Very StrongBy GEORGE C. LANGFORD
UPI Sports Writer

Yogi's back.
"Yep, and it felt good," Yogi Berra smiled after making his National League catching debut Tuesday night by stopping two singles and scoring the winning run in the New York Mets 2-1 triumph over Philadelphia.

"But we'll have to see how much I can do," the former Yankee star and manager cautioned.

Yogi will be 40-year-old a week from Wednesday and had not played in a regular season game since Sept. 21, 1963. He went hitless in eight spring training appearances this year and grounded out in the first pinchhitting role last Saturday in Cincinnati.

"I wasn't in shape in spring training. When you've been out a year you gotta come back slowly. But I've been taking a lotta batting practice and catching in workouts and I feel strong," Berra said. "Getting to play again is like a shot in the arm."

And Yogi was like a shot in the arm to 17,321 Met fans at Shea Stadium who gave him a thunderous standing ovation when he came to bat in the first inning. He rifled a single which apparently scored Ed Kranepool from second base, but Joe Christopher, who had walked, was cut down trying to reach third before Kranepool could score.

Scores Winning Run
Berra stepped again in the seventh, moved to second on a hit by Ron Swoboda and scored the decisive run on Roy McMillan's single.

Yogi also sparked behind the plate, catching winner Al Jackson the full nine innings. He tagged Johnny Callison attempting to "slide around him at the plate in the first inning. Jackson set a club record of 11 strikeouts and blanked the Phils until the ninth when angles by Frank Thomas and Tony Taylor, a wild pitch and Robin Adair's sacrifice fly produced a run.

In other games, three winners, Stargell and Maye, along with Hank Aaron supplied the fireworks in the National League where Pittsburgh beat Chicago 4-3. Minnesota topped Houston 9-3. Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 4-2 and San Francisco bombed St. Louis 9-2.

In the American League, New York topped Cleveland 5-3. Chicago stopped Detroit 10-8. Washington beat Kansas City 4-2. Minnesota defeated Baltimore 7-3 and Los Angeles whipped Boston 7-1.

Willie Davis, burdened with the responsibility of providing the Los Angeles Dodgers with an offense, batted his third homer, doubled and drove home the decisive run in the ninth after the Dodgers had blown a 4-0 lead. Gordy Coleman's two-run homer, a three-run blast by Vada Pinson and a solo homer by Tommy Harper had enabled the Reds to enter the ninth in a 6-6 deadlock. Reliever Jim Brewer shut out the Reds over the last four innings to earn the victory.

Homer Breaks Tie
Stargell broke a 3-3 tie with a three-run homer, his second of the day in the ninth inning to provide the victory margin. Jerry Lynch also honored twice for the Bucks. Reliever Ernie Broglio was the loser.

Miss Judy Kelso Reports On Trip To National 4-H Center

By Judy Kelso

What is citizenship? It means different things to different people. But generally, citizenship is understanding, accepting, and practicing social responsibility.

Social refers to people — myself and others. Citizenship implies a relationship among a group of people, whose welfare is tied together. My responsibility is two things — rights and duties. In short, I have my rights to depend on, so long as I don't disregard my duty to others' rights.

This is citizenship as we learned it at Washington, D. C. on April 11-16. I was among the three representatives sent from Calloway County to the National 4-H Club Center. It was here that we took a short course in citizenship.

Our week consisted of getting to know some 150 teen-agers all from Kentucky, and working with them on citizenship. We had daily talks and discussion groups about citizenship and its connection to some of the places we would visit.

A citizenship short course is designed to help members to develop a greater understanding and appreciation of our American Heritage, to learn the basic functions of government at the national level, to gain appreciation and understanding of the international aspects of citizenship, to deepen our commitment to the democratic way of life, and to develop skills for practicing and teaching leadership and citizenship at the local 4-H club level.

We arrived in Washington Sunday morning, April 11, in time for breakfast. After registering and assignment to our rooms, we attended one of the churches located in the area. After lunch, we were given our official welcome to Washington. That evening we gave a reception and banquet for the speakers and representatives from Kentucky. Congressman and Mrs. Frank Albert Stubblefield were present and members from the first district met with them after the meal for a discussion session.

Speakers for Monday were Mr. Selfritt, head of the 4-H Center, and Miss Dorothy Emerson. Selfritt spoke on "Growing in Citizenship," followed by group discussions where everyone had a chance to express their opinion. Miss Emerson spoke on "Confidence in Leadership." She spoke on positive thinking, to always believe we can perform a task and do it. If we make mistakes, they are learning experiences. If we go around telling ourselves we can't, then our subconscious takes over and convinces us we are not capable. Give at least three compliments every day as this builds confidence in yourself and others.

We visited Washington Cathedral or National Cathedral because it serves the whole nation. The Cathedral has no congregation of its own, but is the scene of special services of various denominations, as well as the home for three churches that have no building of their own. The four plans in the shape of a cross and because it is located on the highest ground in Washington, it stands taller than the Washington Monument.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier where the unknown dead of World War I and II and the Korean War are honored was included in our itinerary. Other points were the grave of John F. Kennedy where crowds of people were slowly filing past, two Jimi Memorial honoring those who heroically gave their lives during World War II with one of men from Kentucky, Lincoln Memorial flanked by the statue being the Gettysburg Address and the Second Inaugural — with malice toward none.

Our next address was on the nature of freedom — learning the laws of life and government and abiding by them. The 4-H International programs were presented. They consist of pen pals, sister clubs, IPYE program and the Peace Corps.

We visited the U.S. Department of Agriculture where we studied Junior Leadership across the country. This was a discussion and evaluation type program. You and your FBI was presented by special agent Morris. He stressed the importance of developing our minds and the grow up to be good citizens, for regardless of where we go, when we enter the adult world of applying for a job it we have a criminal record, regardless of how minor it may be, we have automatically condemned our chances.

Tours were to the Jefferson Memorial, author of the Declaration of Independence, and Wax Museum where important characters of American history are produced in life size wax figures starting with Columbus and on through to President and Mrs. Johnson. Wednesday was for tours. Capitol Hill, a visit with Congressman Stubblefield. Congress was in recess but we heard a congressional committee hearing on the Appalachian bill on poverty. We toured the Supreme Court and the Library of Congress. We met John Sherman Cooper who gave us passes to the Senate chamber and held a question and answer session with us. Lunch was in the Senate cafeteria. We met some Japanese tourists who exchanged money with us. Two groups of us went to the Islamic Center and the third group to the British Embassy. The Islamic Center is the Mosque where Mohammed followers come to pray. This building is entered in stocking feet and you sit on the floor. The British Embassy is staffed of about 600 people from Great Britain. The Embassy is owned by the country who occupies it. There are about 105 different embassies in Washington.

That evening we attended a Russian play spoken in English. America's Challenge to Communism was presented by Mr. Vetter of the United States Information Agency. He has worked with the Peace Corps and IPYEs. He stressed the importance of communicating with poor countries and selling them on the idea of freedom and this great land of ours through these various international organizations. Many underprivileged countries know there is a better life and they want it and we should sell them on freedom before the Communists fill them with false promises and win them over. The Communists only tell the good side of their story where America prints the bad along with the good. Another question and answer period followed.

We sailed by boat on the Potomac for Mr. Vernon where we made a tour of George Washington's home and estate.

A citizenship ceremony was performed and each member and leader was presented with a certificate on completion of this course. A party was also held on Thursday night.

Friday a special tour of the White House was made. We were requested to wear their own Capitol Hill and the White House, and did we wear them proudly. After a most impressive tour of the White House, we went to the Mall and were given our choice of visiting the Building of National History, Smithsonian Building, the National Archives, Washington Monument, or Bureau of Engraving.

We returned to the Capitol for an evaluation and session on how to present our story when we arrived home.

We arrived in Louisville on April 17 after a most rewarding and unforgettable experience. I wish to thank the Bank of Murray, Peoples Bank, the Calloway County Farm Bureau, and the Calloway County 4-H Council for making this trip possible.

Dishwasher Is Considered One Of Best Labor Saving Devices

By Nancy Crass
Home Economist, Murray Electric System

For many busy homemakers, the dishwasher is no longer considered a luxury. To them, it is an essential member of the team of kitchen appliances that save them both time and work. But the dishwasher does more than just save time and work. It has a health advantage, important to any family. Research studies at leading medical schools have shown that dishes washed automatically are practically free of bacteria. This reduces the danger of spreading infections, germs from one member of the family to another.

The chief reason that dishes washed in the dishwasher have far fewer germs than dishes washed by hand is the temperature of the water used by the dishwasher. This water is from 140 to 160 degrees — much hotter than hands can stand.

Today's dishwashers also have a more powerful washing action, making it easier for the homemaker to wash a wide variety of dishes and utensils in her dishwasher. This improved washing action makes pre-rinsing by hand unnecessary, thereby making it simple to get dishes ready for the dishwasher.

In general, newer models also hold more dishes and have loading space for large dinner dishes, platters, odd-shaped utensils, and tall glasses. Capacity in these models may range from 10 to 16 place settings. (A place setting consists of 11 pieces of china, glassware, and silver.)

More models also have a cycle for pre-rinsing and holding small loads, permitting the homemaker to accumulate a full load of dishes before using the wash cycle. For the full load, there are cycles of pre-rinse, wash, rinse and dry. For fine china and crystal, many models offer a gentle cycle for pots and pans, there's a heavy cycle, often with two washes and two or three rinses.

There's also a wide choice in front-loading or top-loading models. There are built-in, free-standing models, and portables. In shopping for your dishwasher, you'll keep a keen eye out for the features that fit your particular needs. Not every feature is on every machine, but with today's variety of models, it's easier to find a model that will suit your own special needs.

GAME VIOLATORS HIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agents have arrested or served summonses on 77 persons in 11 states in a crackdown on the selling of ducks, geese and other migratory game birds.

Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall announced the enforcement campaign. He called the killing and sale of game for profit "a vicious form of game law violation and particularly damaging to wildlife resources."

John A. Schmitzer, 40, is now Agriculture Department undersecretary. He was head of agricultural economics.

A-SOME OPINION — Maj. Gen. John D. Leavelle (above), chief of USAF's aerospace program, says the U.S. would be able to deliver crippling nuclear blows to targets already pinpointed in the Soviet and Red China even if the Communists atom bombed the U.S. first. "We will inflict sufficient damage to win... but with the large losses we would suffer, I doubt if we would term this a win," said the general.

Clyde Steele Reports

To the Voters of Murray and Calloway County

I believe the office of Jailer is an important office. I think the citizens of Murray and Calloway County believe the office of Jailer is an important office.

Among the many duties of your Jailer is the task of being the custodian and keeper of the courthouse building and lawn and waiting upon and serving the County Court, Quarterly Court, Juvenile Court, Fiscal Court and Circuit Court.

You may judge how well I have performed these duties as your Jailer by paying a visit to the courthouse, going through the lobby, the offices on the first floor, the Circuit Court room and the offices on the second floor, and by observing the outside appearance of the courthouse and the courthouse lawn.

With the cooperation and assistance of the Fiscal Courts and other county officers with whom I have performed these duties to work, I can report to you that your courthouse building is now clean and well maintained inside and out, from top to bottom, with adequate lighting throughout the entire courthouse, polished floor in the lobby, County Courtroom and Circuit Courtroom, with adequate and comfortable space for the Circuit Judge to perform his office work and as a meeting place for the Grand Jurors of the future; and I am further happy to report that the courthouse lawn is completely seeded with trees at appropriate places on the lawn and the lawn being well kept in every respect.

In other words, I am pleased and privileged to be able to report to you that your courthouse lawn is now one of the most attractive buildings and lawns to be found in the City of Murray or in any other city of comparable size.

In addition to performing the duties of Jailer, I am happy to report that I have found time to act as manager, coach and assist in many other ways in the organization of the Little League Baseball Association and in the promotion of Little League Baseball games from the beginning of the organization.

It has been, and is now, my opinion that the Little League Baseball Association offers wholesome recreation to the youth of our community, and therefore, enables the youth of our community to keep busy and occupied in addition to the development of good sportsmanship, proper attitudes and physical well-being.

During my tenure as your Jailer, I have given special attention to juveniles who have been unfortunate to the extent of having to appear before the Juvenile Court. I have been very careful to see that no juvenile is ever placed with a hardened adult criminal and I have used all of my intelligence, ability, experience and training to counsel and help these juveniles to avoid being in trouble with the law a second or third time.

My efforts on behalf of the young people of Murray and Calloway County have been over and above my duties as your Jailer, but it is my opinion that every county official, and particularly the Jailer, should go the extra mile in providing proper leadership, wise counsel and advice, and wholesome recreational programs for the youth of our city and county.

I assure you that if I am privileged to continue as your Jailer by receiving your endorsement in the Democratic Primary on May 25, I shall continue my interests, efforts and help to the youth of our town and county, and I earnestly and sincerely solicit your support and vote in the May Democratic Primary that I may continue the efficient maintenance of your courthouse, courthouse lawn and assist in programs and projects helpful and beneficial to our town and county.

If you think the office of Jailer is an important office, please vote for Clyde Steele for Jailer of Calloway County.

Sincerely,

CLYDE STEELE,

Jailer,

Calloway County, Ky.

Dear Abby...

Stubborn Pride!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our son won a speech contest at school. He was to go on to the state speech contest, but this is what happened. My husband and I were asked to sign sworn statements saying that we did not help our son with the writing of his speech as it was supposed to have been an original composition. I signed it willingly as we had given our son no help. In fact, we did not even hear the speech until he gave it in competition. My husband refused to sign the statement, saying that the boy's word alone should be sufficient, and he resented the school authorities taking such measure to insure the truth from a student. I said if we did not sign the statement they would think we helped our boy with the speech. Well, my husband refused to sign it, and our son was disqualified from the contest. I would like your opinion because my husband and I are still at odds because of this.

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I agree with you. Since you gave your son no help, you should have signed the statement. I think your husband did his son an injustice.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for a little over a year. It has been a wonderfully happy marriage. Neither of us ever dreamed such happiness was possible. Before we met, while my husband was working in Europe, he had an affair with a European woman 20 years his senior. This lasted five years. He was transferred out of the country and their relationship ended. Then he met me. It's been three years since he has seen her. They have exchanged Christmas cards. That is all. Yesterday he received a letter from her telling him that she intends to visit the States (and our city) this summer. My husband wants me to meet her and says we should have her out for dinner. This has caused our first major disagreement. He says they are only friends - now and she is no threat to our marriage. I say I don't want to meet her. I say I would rather that he didn't either. Am I being unreasonable?

DEAR ABBY: No! While the lady may be no threat to your marriage, knowing of her past relationship with your husband would make you uneasy in her company. If your husband insists on seeing her, go with him. But try to persuade him to stop it.

DEAR ABBY: You recently ran three letters in your column. Two were from women boasting that they had each given birth to 16 children. And one was from the woman whom you congratulated on being the youngest great-grandmother - a woman whose mother had her at 15, whose daughter bore her child at age 13, and whose granddaughter bore her first child at the ripe old age of 16. The average female can bear a child at age 13, and can produce approximately 30 children in the span of her fertile years. Breeding for most people is the easiest thing in the world. The congratulations should go to those who don't. The next time you run an informal contest, why don't you try to find the mother who has produced the most college graduates in her family? Or the mother who has had the most children in the Peace Corps, or accomplished something equally worthwhile?

CONFIDENTIAL TO ONE: Your husband is a "perfectionist." (He takes great pains and gives them to others.) Learn to live with him.

Contracts On State Parks Is Signed

Frankfort — Governor Edward T. Breathitt has signed contracts totaling $50,000 for construction of new state parks.

Contracts were signed for Natural Bridge, near State 12 route; General Butler, near Carrollton, 8 miles; Kentucky Dam Village, near Gilbertsville, 16 miles; and Rough River, near Lettsfield, 16 miles. The bridges, who received contracts on the basis of competitive bidding, and amounts are: for Natural Bridge, Bogley-Parkner, Contractor, Campbellsville, $148,000; General Butler, Garst-Reverer Construction Co., Louisville, $104,000; Kentucky Dam Village, J. A. Hill Construction Co., Benton, $127,000; and Rough River, also J. A. Hill, $100,000.

The bridge improvements will be paid for with money realized from a recent $3 million state bond issue. The revenue bonds were issued to finance construction and development of additional overnight accommodations at state parks. The State Finance Department work orders have been signed on the projects and construction will start immediately.

The New Hamrick Lodge at Natural Bridge State Park now contains 25 guest rooms. The 13-room addition will be a two-story steel frame structure of about 4,500 square feet. In addition to the bedrooms with baths it will contain two linen rooms, private telephone and a lounge. The exterior finish will be of wood.

The lodge at General Butler State Park presently contains 25 guest rooms. The addition will be two stories with rough-sawn wood siding, containing eight guest rooms and bathrooms.

Two single with eight bedrooms and bathrooms in each will be built at Kentucky Dam Village State Park to match the Village Inn. The units will be connected to the lodge by a covered walkway.

At Rough River State Park, one unit with 16 bedrooms and bathrooms will be built and connected with the lodge there by a covered walkway.
